Tacande

Are you looking for absolute tranquillity? You love green meadows, forests and flowers? You would like to enjoy the sunset over the Atlantic and still not do without Northern European living quality? Then you should have a look at this finca!

On the one-hectare site there is a villa that was completely renovated in 2009 and raised to western quality standards. It is completely built on one level and almost barrier-free. On approx. 194 m² floor space of the main house there is a very large living and dining room with a round, very large oriel in which the dining table is located and from which you can enjoy the wonderful view of the Atlantic Ocean. The large living area is followed by another living room (or music room or library or third, very large bedroom... there are many possibilities). The well-equipped kitchen with solid wood built-in furniture and a spacious cooking island, as well as a small breakfast area and a winter garden, and the other two bedrooms and two bathrooms can be accessed via a corridor with built-in cupboards.

A workshop building with approx. 90 m² floor space, which can easily be converted into a separate guest house, contains a bright workroom with a wonderful view and two further, large work or storage rooms as well as a utility room for the washing machine and an adjacent winter garden.

The small, round pool is completely invisible and offers absolute privacy. Next to the pool is a technical house, which contains the pool technology and still offers space for garden tools or similar, as well as an outside shower.

A large greenhouse imported from Germany and beautifully laid out raised beds provides self-sufficiency with fresh vegetables and salads. The very large plot of land, some of which has fixed paths, still offers plenty of space for your own planting rooms and, above all, plenty of distance to your neighbours.
